HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!
IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.
It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.
It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness
E. B. MOORE, NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE, C. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER, ROB'T RAMSEY,
And others in that vicinity.
Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial, on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.
Prepared by SMITH & ROACH,

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO APRIL 6.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In the House the census bill was taken up.

Garfield explained its provisions

Schofield proposed to postpone the bill to December.

Jenckes moved an amendment, which was adopted, making the bill refer to the present census, to be superceded by a bill to be reported at the next session.

After receiving several other amendments, the bill was passed.

Stevenson, from the Committee on Elections, reported in favor of Conard Myers, contesting Moffit's seat in the Third District of Pennsylvania.

Paine, from the same Committee, reported McCrain in the Fifth District of Louisiana, not eligible to a seat in the House.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

Dawes said the Committee had agreed to recommend an appropriation of two million, to be placed in the hands of the President with authority to use it according to his judgment and discretion to maintain peace and promote the civilization of the Indians. Such an amendment as that which he offered in place of the Senate amendments would save two millions.

Butler insisted that the fourteenth amendment made Indians civilized (citizens?), consequently no valid treaties could be made with them

The Committee then rose and the House took a recess.

In the House, at the evening session, in Committee on the Whole, the Indian appropriation bill came up, the question being Dawes' amendment. A long discussion ensued on a motion to increase the amount of the appropriation from two to two and a half millions. It was rejected and the amendment was then adopted. The Senate amendments were then disposed of, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

In the Senate the special committee on the rate of compensation for Senate employees, recommended a retrenchment bill and not employing extra officers. The report shows that the official expenses of the Senate per capita is about three times as much as for members of the House.

Sherman, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill to authorize payment for services rendered the United States in the late insurrectionary States.

Ramsey presented a communication from the Postmaster General in relation to cheap rates of postage.

Sumner said there was a movement on foot in regard to securing a penny route of postage. He favored the government adopting a two cent ocean postage.

The bill to make San Diego a port of entry, passed.

Morton offered a resolution to pay Senators from the reconstructed States from the commencement of the Fortieth Congress. It was laid on the table

The bill to aid the construction of a branch Central Pacific railroad to Portland, Oregon, was discussed till the expiration of the morning hour, which brought up the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Union Pacific railroad.

Stewart spoke at length against the Union Pacific credit mobilier and in favor of the Central Pacific.

Sherman's amendment was modified at the suggestion of Williams, so as to leave the President to fix the point of junction according to the legal rights of the respective roads, and was so adopted—33 to 6.

Davis offered an amendment, which was adopted, directing the Attorney General to first investigate whether the charter and franchises of the Union Pacific road and branches have not been forfeited, and if so, to institute the necessary legal proceedings. Second, to investigate whether the said company have made illegal dividends on stock, and if so, to execute the necessary proceedings. Third, to investigate whether any of the Directors, agents or employees of said company have violated any penal law, and if so, to institute the proper criminal proceedings.

Howard again offered an amendment naming certain officers to constitute a Board of Commissioners, adding the name of Gen. Canby, and directing them to fix the point of junction on the line, to be approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Nye opposed the amendment, and finally, without action, the Senate took a recess.

In the Senate, at the evening session, several private bills passed.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Pacific Railroad Company's affairs.

Sherman moved to amend the pending amendment of Howard, authorizing the President to appoint a Board of Commissioner's simply to examine and report upon the condition of the roads, and not to do anything to fix the point of the junction.

Howard declined to accept, because he objected to settle the point of the junction by legislation.

Wilson said the present Union Pacific Railroad directors were unanimous in urging action. He believed they knew what the interests of the country were, and he thought the Senate ought to pass the act without further delay.

Nye made a general attack on the management of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Adjourned.

Appointments, etc.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The President has withdrawn the nomination of Edward V. Kingsley as Secretary of Legation to Madrid, and D. W. Chester, for postmaster at Placerville, California.

Terrible Disaster in the Mines.

VIRGINIA CITY, April 7.—Fire was discovered in the Yellow Jacket, Crown Point and Kentuck mines at Gold Hill early this morning, and is now raging. Seventeen men are thought to be in the mines. Five dead bodies have been got to the surface. The fire originated in the eight hundred foot level of the Kentuck. There is great danger that the men below will all perish, the smoke and gas being so dense and suffocating as to render it impossible to get to their aid or operate to extinguish the fire.

VIRGINIA, April 7.—The excitement is so great it is difficult to get full and exact particulars of the Gold Hill fire. It originated on the line between the Yellow Jacket and Kentuck mines, at the 800 foot level, from a miner's candle. The natural draft of the mine is carrying the fire in the direction of the Crown Point.

The expressions of grief from the friends and wives and children of miners in the works, have been most heart rending. Our city is quite deserted, the people having gone over to the scene of the disaster, hoping to be able to render assistance in suppressing the fire or aiding the suffering, but little, however, could be done. The dense smoke filling all the galleries and passages on the level where the fire originated, and those above, prevented any direct efforts being made to extinguish the fire. Five dead bodies have been brought up and another in a dying condition. Four other bodies were found dead on the 900 foot level in the Yellow Jacket. There are still twenty-three men in the Crown Point below the fire, supposed to be dead from ten to twelve in the Kentuck, also supposed to be dead. Efforts are making to get them out through both tunnel and shaft, but the smoke is so dense that men cannot live to go down. Notes and signals sent down by the car failed to return any response.

The fire is still raging and the smoke is increasing. The supposition now is that the fire is principally on a line between the Yellow Jacket and Crown Point, and traveling toward the latter mine. No calculation can be made of the damage and nothing has yet been suggested that promises to aid in extinguishing the fire. Thousands of people are on the ground

SALEM, April 7. The annual meeting of the Oregon Central road east side was held here yesterday. Dr. J. F. Hawthorne, A. Bush, Geo. W. Weidler, Geo. A. Flint and S. M. Smith were added to the board to meet in April and October of each year. Geo. L. Morris was elected President to succeed Flint, Vice President E. N. Cole Treasurer, Geo. L. Cole Secretary, J. B. Mitchell, Attorney. An Executive Committee was appointed, consisting of J. F. Morris, A. Bush, Dr. Hawthorne, Geo. W. Weidler and S. M. Smith

M. Tourney, a Frenchman, has invented a process that is expected to revolutionize paper making. By his process, old papers can be converted, in the course of a few minutes, into very white and nice paper. He first communicated the invention to M. Delalaye, a leading paper manufacturer of Troyes, who was so greatly surprised at what he saw that he exclaimed, "Tourney, you are a wizard!" And when the inventor fully explained to him the particulars of his process, Delalaye added, "Good by, paper mills!"

A RAILROAD RHAPSODY.—The Reno Crescent indulges in the following rhapsody over the speedy completion of the Pacific Railroad:

"Think of it! in thirty days the last rail will be spiked down! All aboard for Omaha, Chicago and New York! O, farewell! Farewell the faithful steers and the red wagons; the whoahaws, the ear piercing oaths, the royal swearing, and all quality, pride, pomp and circumstance of emigrating. And, O, you mortal bull-whips, whose rude cracks the immortal jove's dread clamors counterfeit, farewell! The toiler's occupation's gone."

One of the saddest results of hydrophobia that we have heard of is from the New York Sun:

"Mr

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 9, 1869.

Let it Stop.

Remarks have frequently been made in the erald of late reflecting severely upon Judge eady for his action in the trial of Randall. nator Williams contributes the following to e Herald, taken from the Washington corspondence of the New York World:

The circumstances connected with the trial do ot reflect very creditably upon the court before hich the case was tried.

Now it would seem to us that it would be well to allow this matter to drop. What an the friends of Mr. Randall hope to gain y continually agitating it and stepping out f their way to censure Judge Deady, who, as very one will admit, presided at the trial ith the dignity, impartiality and ability hich always characterize his official conduct? he verdict was rendered by a jury of twelve en who heard the evidence, and nobody retends that any undue influences were used o obtain conviction. Now will any of those ho are throwing out these unjust insinuaions against Judge Deady undertake to specify any act of his, before, during, or after the rial, "which does not reflect very creditably" pon him? We will say, however, that there re circumstances connected with the obtainment of the pardon "which do not reflect very favorably" upon certain parties, and the best thing they can do is to let the matter drop and not force a further discussion of a subject which may as well, for them, be buried in oblivion. The Herald the other day said that the Oregonian was "virtuously indignant to have Randall convicted, guilty or not guilty." The truth is, as our readers know, that the OREGONIAN has never commented on the case or published anything in relation to it or not what was obtained from the records of the Court. We have never had any disposition to meddle with the matter, and have carefully refrained from publishing anything which could prejudice the public mind against Mr. Randall. Nor have we now any disposition to take the opposite course; but we feel bound to say that we are not disposed to submit to the unjust insinuations which are thrown out, nor do we think that this paper owes anything more upon this point. Judge Deady did his duty on the trial as an impartial judge, and his detractors will be allowed to go on without rebuke, as well as others, for this. We do not object to criticism of Mr. Randall, but we regret to see any one willing to stoop to and compel Judge Deady to defend himself in self-defense. If the animosity of this clique will but subside a little we are inclined to think that they will come to the conclusion that they have nothing to gain by continuing the [illegible] of the Herald.

[illegible] will [illegible] tion to the U[illegible] can be no doubt; [illegible] that when the question will show no [illegible] the quality will be much [illegible]. A contemporary observes that the [illegible] for Presidents at New York show the steady and rapid growth of this [illegible] in our [illegible] and energies [illegible] to promote and maintain [illegible] of the Territories. The fact is that in a social view, they lay the foundations permanently [illegible] the forest, building towns and otherwise showing the true marks of progress and civilization wherever they go; while, in a political view, their aims and aims are [illegible] to the support of our republican institutions. These [illegible] are too [illegible] to be overlooked in our [illegible] of the country. The country owes much of its [illegible] and progress to the [illegible] enterprise, industry and integrity of the Citizens who were the founders of that city of New York, and who prepared the way in laying the foundations of [illegible] of the West. Tolerance of the [illegible] opinions and customs, and [illegible] with the political proclivities of [illegible] born, [illegible] a quiet and [illegible], thrift and prosperity follow all their steps. Always found on the side of the [illegible], against oppression of every [illegible] to others the freedom and liberty which elevates and ennobles the human race. [illegible] is the true Democracy of this [illegible] greatest need [illegible] of humanity [illegible].

[illegible]

The Jacksonville Sentinel is responsible for the following: "Two gentlemen were speaking of the recent defeat of A. Johnson the other day. One of them remarked with more force [illegible], that although death had got a bill [illegible] giving him power over Andy had vetoed it and still kicked. This may be considered his last veto."

It turns out that all the Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature did not resign. Only those from districts overwhelmingly Democratic resigned; those from doubtful districts refused to take the chances of re-election. This course they called "an appeal to the people against the proposed constitutional amendment!"

The [illegible] says: "We deprecate the introduction of politics in school matters, but as the matter now looks, there is nothing left for the Democrats hereafter to do except to attend and control these meetings." Hereafter, then, we suppose a barrel of whisky will be provided and tapped at the school house, as this is the only inducement which will bring out a large Democratic vote.

In a single issue of the Sacramento Union, in the regular list of births, we find the following, which gives significant evidence of the profuse returns that reward legitimate human effort in that favored State: "In San Diego, March 1st, the wife of Jesus Alcatraz of twin daughters. In San Diego, March 7th, the wife of Philip Crosthwaite of twin daughters. In Sacramento, March 27th, the wife of John Driscoll of triplets—two sons and a daughter."

The Herald, with that decency and courtesy which so [illegible]ently characterize Democratic journalism, calls the Young Men's Christian Association "the left knave of the Radical party." A Democratic editor will of course make use of the nomenclature of the art most familiar to him. It is curious and instructive to observe that almost every association in the country for the propagation of education, morality, and religion—except the Methodist Church South—is denounced by the Democratic press as an agent of the "Radical party."

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: The Crescent City road is open for wagons, which is quite unusual at this [illegible] of the year.

Virtue of Persistence

Horace Greeley has an excellent article in the January number of Packard's Monthly, combating the idea that great achievements are usually accomplished by a sort of inspiration, without labor, and illustrating the paramount importance of determination and perseverance. He says:

I know there is a small class of whom the world says, "They see the heart of things by intuition; they are poets from impulse only; orators, statesmen, critics, sages, because nature would have it so." I beg leave to doubt that men of this stamp are a whit more abundant than white crows. I know there are enough who take pleasure and pride in surprising the public with prodigies of easy and rapid achievements—who would have us believe they have thrown off their epic a canto a day, and can write you their quire of clever epigrams or sonnets before dinner. Now, I do not question the facility of rapid and brilliant execution, as the result of past study and acquirement; in fact I know of such instances; but look at Virgil's four lines per day—written that day to be read through all future time, consider how Demosthenes made himself an orator against a host of natural impediments; examine a fac simile of a manuscript page of Byron's poems, and mark the numerous erasures and interlineations, arguing slow composition and a puzzling brain, and note well that the man who writes a poem, a sermon, an elaborate review, or an oration in a day, has been many years in acquiring that facility, and you will agree with me that the vulgar supposition that some are so gifted by nature they may achieve distinction without effort, is contradicted by a thousand facts where it seems to be sustained by one. My sometime friend, who perished miserably of delirium tremens, often affected to write without labor; yet I happen to know, from his intimate family connections, that he repeatedly shut himself up for months and devoted his whole energies to study. In these periods of hibernation, the sparkling effusions which he seemed to dash off impromptu, after his return to society, had essentially their origin.

Railroad Intelligence.

The following telegram was received at this office yesterday:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7, 1869.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The East Side Railroad bill has passed the Senate by an overwhelming majority. I leave for home next week; shall leave Chicago on the 20th.

J. H. MITCHELL.

WONDERFUL FORECAST.—A Chicago newspaper indulges in some figures as to the prospective population of that city at the close of the century. It figures that the rate of increase of New York is about six per cent. a year, while in Chicago it reaches forty per cent. Starting with a population in Chicago in 1860 of 109,260, and of New York at 805,650, it reaches this stunning conclusion:

New York in 1900	4,879,602
Chicago in 1900	49,652,040

The total population of the Union in 1900, at the rate of three per cent. increase per year, which has been the rate for the past seventy years, will not be less than one hundred millions. It is thus mathematically demonstrated that one-half of the population of the United States will live in Chicago or thereabouts in the year 1900; and in the year 2000 everybody will live in Chicago.

INCREASE OF POPULATION.—The growth of American population has been marked for seventy years by an uniformity so regular as to enable us to predict the future with something very near to certainty. Each recurring decade from 1790 to 1860 shows a percentage of increase varying from 32:67 per cent., the lowest, to 36:45 per cent., the highest, the average of the seven periods being 34:47 for each ten years. Estimated upon this average, the census of 1870 will return the population of the United States at 42,322,710; in 1880, 57,966,368; in 1890, 76,676,731; in 1900, which many living will see, 103,105,880. Nor is it likely that the great variety of causes, foreign or domestic, which have contributed to our rapid increase of population since this century came in, will cease to be operative, or substantially be less effective before the century's close.

STATE ITEMS.

On the 1st inst. snow fell for several hours at Jacksonville, but melted almost as fast as it fell, except on the hills.

Scarcely a day passes, says the Sentinel, that we do not hear of persons passing through the valley on their way to Goose Lake. They generally have a considerable amount of stock with them.

W. C. Myer, of Ashland, Jackson county, will start about the 20th with a band of about 200 fine horses, for which he is seeking a market. He will go overland, and expects to meet with sale for some of them at Elko.

The Sentinel demands the erection of an academy at Jacksonville for young ladies, free from all sectarian bias. It says that in that part of Oregon there is an increasing demand for better educational facilities, and a higher grade of education.

A paper in the Southern part of the State predicts that "the recent copious showers of the past week will set our farmers to grumbling again. They have been complaining all winter that there would be no crops; now we expect to hear them make the usual complaint that the grain will be so heavy that it will "break" them to harvest it."

A Southern Oregon paper says: On Monday, 21st ult., an affray occurred near Pistol River, about nine miles south of Ellensburg, in which a man named Tom Dolan was dangerously, perhaps fatally, stabbed by one Chris. Mulkey. The difficulty commenced in a dispute about a mining claim.

Foreign Gossip.

Berlin and Paris capitalists are about to build an immense hotel on the banks of the Lago Maggiore. It is destined to become the largest caravansery on the Continent, and while everything will be kept in first-class style, the prices will be so cheap that even persons of very moderate means will be enabled to pass their vacation in that paradisical part of Italy.

Two years ago, when the Muhlbach fever was at its height in the United States, the corpulent Louisa received an offer from an American publisher, who wanted her to write a novel about Washington, which he told her would have a sale of one hundred thousand copies, and for which he promised to pay her ten per cent. on the retail price for every copy sold. For some reason or other, the tempting offer was not accepted.

Eugene Sue's posthumous novel, about the publication of which there was a long law suit before the Courts of Switzerland and France, has at length been issued at Paris. The title of the book is, "Camille, or the Mysteries of the Heart." It is very interesting, though somewhat different from the style in which Sue's later works were written. Victor Hugo accepted the dedication of the novel a few weeks previous to Sue's death.

The Emperor of Russia recently assured some gentlemen from Moscow, who urged the abolition of flogging and branding criminals on him, that this subject had engrossed his attention for some time past, but he was unable to act upon their suggestions, experienced judges in all parts of the empire having represented to the Minister of Justice that the abolition of the knout and red hot iron would lead to a vast increase in the number of felonies; he would order reform, however, at the earliest moment possible.

Discipline among the female prisoners at the Hamburg penitentiary is maintained by the following very effective plan: The female prisoners are divided into two classes, one embracing the old women and the other the young girls. If one of the former class does not behave which is very rarely the case, she is locked up in the dungeon on bread and water. Violations of discipline in the department of the young girls are punished as follows: The offender is dressed in very ugly costume and sent to the old woman's class. The girls hate this punishment so much that they will even hold their tongues for whole days in order to escape it.

The Salt Lake Telegraph wants a reunion of delegates from the several Territories at Salt Lake, to make efforts to secure Territorial Representatives in Congress. Is this political or connubial?

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO APRIL 8.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In the House the bill passed repealing the act amending the first section of the judiciary act of 1799, thus placing the law in its original position.

Dixon, from the Committee on Commerce, reported back the Senate bill to protect seals in Alaska. Ordered printed.

The House proceeded to consider the Indian appropriation bill. An amendment was adopted providing that nothing in this act shall be construed as approving or ratifying any Indian treaty made since July 15. The amendment placing $2,000,000 at the disposal of the President was adopted 98 to 33. All the other amendments reported by the committee were agreed to.

Butler, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to enforce the fourteenth amendment and restore the State of Georgia to a republican form of government. After considerable discussion, Butler moved the previous question, which was refused. Butler then spoke in favor and —— in opposition to the bill. The Georgia bill was temporarily laid aside and the bill appropriating $200,000 for the improvement of rivers and harbors, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of war, was passed.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs was authorized to investigate the Paraguayan matter during the recess.

A conference committee was ordered on the bill in reference to the Osage Indian lands.

The House resumed consideration of the Georgia bill.

Schenck favored postponement of the bill till the first Monday in December, and demanded the previous question, which was not seconded.

A conference committee was ordered on the Indian appropriation bill. Dawes, Bingham and Drake were appointed.

A message from the President was read urging action in reference to the Virginia and Mississippi cases before adjournment.

Butler moved to refer the message to the Reconstruction Committee.

Brooks moved to refer it to the Judiciary Committee. Without disposing of the matter the House adjourned.

In the Senate, the Chaplain prayed for the patriot arms of Cuba, that they might be strengthened and the isles of the sea delivered from their oppression.

Trumbull reported a bill to carry into effect the treaty with Russia.

Sumner reported a bill to prevent counterfeiting foreign trade marks.

Wilson gave notice that he would offer a joint resolution to authorize the President to appoint a commission to examine into the practicability and best method of establishing a ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien.

The bill to amend the judicial system which was amended by the House, was further amended by the Senate, and goes back to the House for concurrence.

The expiration of the morning hour brought up the Pacific railroad resolutions. On motion of Fessenden all prior orders were postponed, and the deficiency appropriation bill was taken up. Many amendments were made and the bill passed.

Sprague announced that his preparations were all complete, and he would deliver his expected speech to-morrow.

Fessenden, Harlan and Cole were appointed a committee of conference on the Indian appropriation bill.

The Vice President submitted a message from the President, recommending that Congress provide for the submission before adjourning of the Virginia constitution to the people sometime during the month of June, at an election to be held under direction of the commander of the district, with a view to the submission of the constitution, as adopted by the people, to Congress at the commencement of the next session and an early admission of the State to representation. The message makes similar recommendations in regard to Mississippi. The Senate then went into executive session.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Pacific Railroad Committee will arrange to take the testimony, during recess, and report at next session.

Admiral Hoff telegraphs that the Captain General has ordered several Americans with families, to be allowed to pass through the Spanish lines.

Consul Coddington has been released.

The President has nominated Philip Diebe (Ritz) for Marshal of Washington Territory.

The Senate confirmed a large number of nominations heretofore sent in. Among the appointments to-day were D. Naggle, of Wisconsin, Chief Justice of Idaho. B. B. Pinchbeck, (colored). Register of the Land Office at New Orleans and Mary J. Falls, Postmistress at Vallejo.

Regulations have been issued from the War Department mustering out of the general service clerks and managers allowed at headquarters of military divisions and regiments, recruits not exceeding ten in the aggregate, to be received. All are to be rated as clerks, who are allowed extra pay prescribed for clerks. The number of picked citizens employed in any capacity in the Quartermaster's Department is to be reduced so that by the 1st of July, the aggregate shall not exceed 4,000. The regulations still further contemplated retrenchment in the army expenses.

CHICAGO, April 7.—A Republican special thinks the President's message urging legislation in the case of Virginia and Mississippi before adjournment, will cause the session to be prolonged at least a week.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Specials say the United States Supreme Court will render the last decision of the term on Monday. No decision will be made on any legal tender case this term.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs have agreed to report a resolution recommending the appointment of a committee to investigate the financial condition of San Domingo and its products, with a view to possible annexation.

Considerable excitement prevails over the rumor that the Mexican Government has filed charges against Minister Rosecrans, and has requested his recall.

It is now proposed to appoint an Indian peace commission of Quakers, civilized Indians and French Catholic missionaries. It is believed that the Indians would have confidence in such a commission.

The President has directed the immediate recall of Reverdy Johnson.

A meeting was held last night at the house of Senator Pomeroy, when a branch of the Cuban Junta was organized, with Mrs. Senator Pomeroy as President, and Mrs. Senator Harlan, Grace Greenwood, and several other distinguished ladies as officers.

There will be sharp opposition to the confirmation of Ashley as Governor of Montana.

The appropriation for the purchase of clothing, etc., for the California Indians, is fixed at $600,000.

The appropriation for the general expense of the Indian service in Arizona, is increased to $70,000.

It is reported on good authority that General Bowie's nomination as naval officer is agreed upon, but Sargent thinks that Waite's chances are good.

In the House, yesterday, McCormick, of Arizona, introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to consider the propriety of authorizing the Governor of Arizona to recruit regiments of volunteers, and if deemed expedient to report a bill for that purpose.

New York News.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The proceedings before the Referee of the Union Pacific railroad case, were brought to a sudden stop to day, the witnesses refusing to testify under Judge Platchford's decision.

Nitro glycerine exploded in a blacksmith shop at Hudson City to day, demolishing the building and killing one man.

The Grand Jury has indicted the Deputy Sheriff, John Moran, for aiding the escape of King and a band of robbers.

It is reported that Judge Barnard will to-morrow, order the commitment of Durant Cisco and Tuttle to the Ludlow street jail, if they persist in their refusal to testify in his court under Blatchford's decision. It is also rumored that Peterson, concerned in breaking per the safe of the Union Pacific Company, will be prosecuted.

Executions at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Preparations for the execution of Eaton, convicted of the murder of Murphy, and of Twitchell, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Hill, have commenced. The executions will be private. Only the officials and six reporters will be admitted. Eaton persists in declaring his innocence. Tremendous efforts are being made for the pardon of both, but the law will have to take its course in the case of Twitchell, and probably Eaton.

Republican Triumph in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, April 7.—The election of State officers and Members of the Legislature called out quite a light vote. Returns from all the towns but one give Padelford, Republican, for Governor, 3,000 majority. The Senate probably stands 27 Republicans to 6 Democrats. The House will probably stand 61 Republicans to 11 Democrats.

Attempt to Murder.

RALEIGH, April 7.—An attempt was made last night to assassinate Joseph Turner, editor of the Sentinel. A shot was fired into the window of the room where he sat at the night, barely missing him. The assassin escaped.

Municipal Elections.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—The entire Republican city ticket was elected yesterday.

At Denver the Citizens' ticket was elected.

At Jefferson City the Democrats carried the election.

Miscellaneous.

The steeple of St Mary's Church, Jersey City, was yesterday struck by lightning and nearly demolished.

In a quarrel at Brooklyn, last night, Mary Wall threw a kerosene lamp at her husband, nearly breaking his head. The lamp exploded and Mary was fatally burned.

Condition of A. B. Stephens.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Dispatches from Augusta, Georgia, announce that Alexander H. Stephens has suffered a relapse, and his life is now despaired of.

Indiana Legislature.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—The Democratic Members of the Legislature have agreed to attend the session to day if the Republicans will agree to submit the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the direct vote of the people, or postpone all action thereon. The Republicans decline to make any pledges as a condition of the present meeting.

From Cuba.

HAVANA, April 7.—The Diario says the rebels are leaving the jurisdiction of Sagua La Grande, which is becoming quiet. Several lately quit the rebel ranks and then returned to the city and joined the volunteers.

It is reported that the burning of settlements and farms in the interior by the insurgents still continues.

The La Voze de Cuba comments bitterly on the sales of property belonging to emigrants, by Cubans.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The Herald's special Havana dispatch says that ten gunboats are expected from Spain. Orders have been sent to builders in the United States for the construction of thirty more.

The Governor of Guandaca is banishing young men suspected of rebel tendencies.

A revival of the late volunteer demonstration is anticipated on the arrival of the volunteers from Catalonia, Spain.

The La Voze De Cuba urges confiscation measures because absentees are selling off their property.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION has filled the various offices; so have BARMAN Bros., filled their spacious store, corner Front and Morrison Streets, with the Latest Styles of Merchant Tailoring Goods, consisting of French Cassimeres, Beaver, Broadcloths and all kinds of Vestings, also a fine Stock of Ready Made Clothing, and Gents' Furnishing Goods, which they are enabled to sell lower than any other House in their city, as their Mr Isaac Barman is constantly in the San Francisco market, purchasing at the most advantageous prices, of which their customers always have the benefit. Go and see them—no trouble to show goods.

DEATH! DEATH!—Adulteration, Sure Death.—The World newspaper has exposed the vast amount of deleterious adulteration of liquors and groceries, but in the Drug business it is carried on to a greater extent, thus producing Death, in consequence of physicians not obtaining the desired results from their remedies. The Drugs and Medicines at the Oregon Dispensary are fresh and pure, hence all of our first class Doctors prefer our store to any other in this city.

LORYEA & KALLENBURG,

WANTED!

Competent and

The rebel freebooter Semmes has issued "My ventures Afloat," a large book, voted "unldy and unreadable," by those who have d to read it. The following passage, howr, has some interest, now that Mr. Gideon lles has retired from his long service at the d of the navy

"The time had now arrived for me to etch over to the Cape of Good Hope. I been three months near the equator and the coast of Brazil, and it was about time t some of Mr. Welles' ships of war, in rsuance of the tactics of that slow old genman, should be making their appearance the coast in pursuit of me. I was more an ever astonished at the culpable neglect want of sagacity of the head of the Feder Navy Department when I arrived on the ast of Brazil and found no Federal ships of r there. Ever since I had left the island of maica, early in January, I had been workg my way gradually to my present cruising ound. My ship had been constantly reorted, and any one of his clerks could have otted my tracks from these reports so as to ow him, past all peradventure, where I was ound. But even independently of any posve evidence, he might have been sure that, oner or later, I would make my way to that eat thoroughfare."

Again, he is very severe on the venerable cretary, when he says:

"If Mr. Wells had stationed a faster and avier ship than the Alabama—and he had a umber of both heavier and faster ships—at e crossing of the thirtieth parallel; another or near the equator, a little to the eastward the Fernando de Noronha; and a third off shia, he must have driven me off, or greatly ippled me in my movements. A few more ips in the other chief highways, and his ommerce would have been pretty well protected. But the old gentleman does not seem nce to have thought of so simple a policy as tationing a ship anywhere. The reader who as followed the Alabama thus far has seen ow many points he left unguarded. His den seemed to be, first to wait until he heard f the Alabama being seen somewhere, and hen to send off a number of cruisers, post aste, in pursuit of her, as though he expect- her to stand still and wait for her pursuers. his method of his left the game entirely in y own hands."

The Pall Mall Gazette epitomizes Semmes' lan in a few words:

"In fact, he performed a simple calculation, nd knew exactly when and where to expect a ruiser after him. When he was at Brazil he eckoned how long it would take the news to each Washington; then he calculated the time ship-of-war would occupy in a passage to Brazil; and a little before the expiration of hat time he moved off. So it was everywhere lse. The reader will have occasion to remark,' says Capt. Semmes, with justifiable omplacency, 'how well this system worked or me, as he will have observed that I did not all in with a single enemy at sea at any ime during my whole career."

The Gazette pertinently asks: "Have the merican people ever got their facts fairly into heir [illegible]?"

The sound of a gnat may not be conclusive n any [illegible]; but the opinion of the ace of the A[illegible] as the English critics [illegible] that his statements have [illegible]

The Pi[illegible] Lan[illegible] boy can tell a lie; but it [illegible]res a p[illegible]hable hand to tell [illegible] with circumstances." For [illegible]thing like four [illegible] no longer for [illegible] I know. A story floating about the world to the effect that in certain northern regions the words one speaks are frozen as they are uttered, and have to be thawed before they can be heard. Castillian tells the story as a story. Heylin repeats it. Ray adds that the words when frozen, fall about like hail, and are to be taken up carefully in the order in which they fall and placed in a frying-pan talk. Another writer says that some of them break in being picked up, and [illegible] without utterance. It required the superior hand of Sir John Mandeville to compass this thing. Hearsay does more for him. He saw the phenomenon, he says, and he gives you the name of the ship he was on board of at the time, and the exact latitude and longitude in which the occurrence took place. Growing even more minute he tells you that several of the words fell overboard and were no more heard of, and that the little crosses flakes, when much talk was going on, were a great annoyance to common seamen in their work. His crowning triumph, however, occurs when the thaw comes. A rude fellow, a boatswain, he thinks—having swallowed a camel he is very particular about the gnat, it will be observed—had during the continuance of the frost, cursed the Captain in a fit of passion; but as soon as the words began to thaw, his sin found him out, he was soundly beaten for his disorderly behavior. Munchausen's version of the story in uninventive compared with this!

EXPLOIT OF A HUNTER—TWO BEARS KILLED AT A SHOT.—One day last week, in Prickly Pear Canyon, about 30 miles from Helena, an old mountaineer and hunter, named Maxwell, heard a mysterious noise in a cave, or fissure of the rocks. Being in "windward pursuit" of game, he had left his dogs, five in number, tied up in camp. Night coming on, he returned, resolved to explore the mystery in the morning. The next day, carrying a lantern, and accompanied by his dogs—one a huge mastiff—he went back to the cave. The canines were urged to enter. Then commenced a terrific combat, the surrounding height and gorges ringing with the howling, yelping and growling of the assailants and assailed. At last two of the dogs having been silenced in quick succession, the old hunter, light in one hand and rifle in the other, boldly rushed to the rescue. Before him were two large, infuriated grizzlies, beside them two lifeless dogs, with a third in the fatal embrace of one of the monsters. Leveling his Henry rifle, the most powerful of hand fire-arms, he fired, the bullet passing through the head of one and into the heart of the other; they both fell dead on the bodies of their three victims. With his two remaining dogs, Mr. M. then proceeded to 'Squire Wilkinson's toll-gate for assistance in securing the carcasses, feeling that his exploit equaled if it did not eclipse the traditional wolf adventure of old Israel Putnam.—Montana News Letter.

A Louisville correspondent of a New York paper who has had an interview with Mr. Geo. D. Prentice, describes that once brilliant man as a mere shadow of his former self. His genius is gone, and his person is a mere wreck. His family is broken up—wife dead, one son killed on the Confederate side, another settled on a farm down the river—and the old man, verging on three score and ten, cooks his breakfast and dinner in his little room on the third floor of the Courier building, and lives only in conversation about the past. This man once wielded an imperial power with his wit and his music. Now the world has whirled past him, and he lies on the shore a mere standard wreck.

A ... CRIMINAL TRIAL.—A few days since, a criminal ... was had in Washington county which, in some respects was about as rich as anything ever published in ... Is Dream. The story goes that a young woman living with an elderly couple was awakened in the night by some person tickling her feet. She screamed and the fellow eloped; but before getting out of hearing, he ... and she thought she knew a young man who had such a cough. So the next day she told the old lady, who of course was indignant. The young man with a cough was arrested and taken before a magistrate, on the ... of attempting a rape. The Justice heard the evidence and ... both the charge and the plaintiff; ... but the old lady got on the rampage and wanted to know if the mythical young female called Justice was living or dead; if living, where was she hiding herself, and if dead, where had they laid her ashes? In short, the old lady kicked up such a row that the ... got worsted and concluded to expose the young man with a cough once more to the perils of the law. He ... d him again brought in (without any new warrant) and had a jury summoned, the jury heard the evidence and discharged. Another jury was called and again they disagreed. Finally, hearing juries come to go their ways, the magistrate ... pened two ... t talk with him in the trial; one of them went and met the other forgot to go. The result of the latter ... was, the young man with a cough was found guilty, and fined $5 and costs. Young man with a cough said he ... s the expenditure to pay and that the justice would have to send him to jail. Magistrate declared he never would send him to jail; never! he must pay or get ... Young man with a cough was firm as a mule; he ... pay; he wouldn't get security; he would go to jail. "Never," said the magistrate; "if you can't get any other way, I'll resign my office and go your bail myself." How the matter was settled, we have not yet learned. During the trial, a controversy arose ... the ... counsel as to whether Wharton or Greenleaf were the better authority as to some point in criminal evidence. This quarrel was settled, finally, by one of the counsel, who exhibited to the Court a merchant's catalogue of law books for sale, ... w ... appended in the column above Greenleaf. The Justice declared that satisfactory, and that Wharton would be recognized as authority in his court, in preference to the other.

RUNAWAYS AND SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES.—Within a day or two, there have been several runaway scrapes in our ..., the results being more or less serious in each case. There were two casualties of this kind yesterday. Mr. ..., of the Portland Market, was thrown from a ... market cart, while his horse was running away, and received serious injury about the head and other parts of his person. The horse became frightened at some part of the harness coming unfastened. At ... a more serious accident occurred to a ... little girls—children of Mr. Kuhls. The father ... the little girls to ride with him on his rounds ... beer, etc. He left them in the wagon while he went to deliver a package, and just as he was returning to the door of the house, some loose horses came running ... at a fast ... rate. Mr. Kuhls' team became frightened ... started off at fearful speed. In a moment or two, as the team turned a corner the wagon struck the sidewalk, the box flew up, letting the king bolt out; the team went on with the fore wheels, while the sudden halt of the ... and hind wheels, precipitated the children and several casks and cases of bottles in a promiscuous heap on the ground. One of them was badly cut upon the knee joint and ... what bruised otherwise, while the other was hurt in several places about the body, and it is feared ... dly. It is almost a miracle that either of the little ones ... did alive.

WESTERN TERRITORY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—We have received a letter from Mr H. G. Struve, of Vancouver, in which he says: "I received a letter from Judge Hewitt this morning, stating that the time and place for holding the Republican Territorial Convention had been changed by the Central Committee. The time ... isted is Wednesday, April 21st, and the place is Vancouver."

There is no reason to doubt the correctness of the ... ... as a letter from another party to a gentleman in this city contains the same statement.

PAVEMENT.—Mr. Tierney who runs the street sprinkler has been notified by the Street Commissioner to remove his tank from the river bank at the foot of Oak street. ... Hquence of this, Mr T is circulating a petition praying the Council to permit the tank to remain, and is ... ing numerous signatures, many of whom are business men in the immediate neighborhood. The tank is in a part of the street never otherwise used, except by the business men on either side, and they are among the signers of Mr. Tierney's petition.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A day or two since a small boy was brought to Dr Mark, of East Portland, from near the Sandy, to have a surgical operation performed upon his right fore finger. The boy had been playing with a straw cutter, when by accident he got his finger between the cog wheels while they were in rapid motion. The cogs had actually cut his finger into pieces from the end to the second or middle joint. Dr Mack amputated the finger near the joint. The boy is a child of Mr. Snowter ...

MESSRS. PIONEER LINE.—The Adelina Ellwood, the 5th vessel in Mercer's Pioneer Line between New York and Portland, sailed on the 24th of March, and the bark A. Heaton has taken her place at the dock. Information has been received that she is loading rapidly and will probably sail soon after the middle of the present month. The Hattie Bessie, the 3d vessel in the line, is now due and is daily expected to arrive.

RATES OF TRANSPORTATION.—The following rates of land transportation from Umatilla to points inland were telegraphed yesterday, with the remark that a further decline may be expected: To Idaho City, by pack train, 7c; mule teams, 6½c, ox, 6c. To Boise—mule teams, 5c; ox teams, 4½c. To Auburn and Baker City, 3½c to Eldorado, 4½c; to La Grande, 3c.

CHURCH FESTIVAL.—The ladies of Trinity Parish held a Festival at the Vestry room of the Church last evening. To-day they will furnish lunch and ice-cream at the same place from 12 to 1½ o'clock. The public are invited to attend.

ACCOMMODATION WANTED.—Every few days letters are received by the postmaster of this city or by us, from parties in the East asking information regarding Oregon. It would seem really that while there is an astonishing ignorance among the eastern people concerning our country, there is quite a general wish for information. The following letter from Chicago for instance is not unlike dozens that are received here during the year: "SIR: A party of young men in this city hearing of the great beauty of the climate of your State wish to emigrate but are prevented from making arrangements looking to that end by the want of proper information. We fully understand that the climate is very healthy. We would like to know what improvements are offered by your people to actual settlers and what the cost of ... steel and ... outfit. As we have a well beaten track ... with the only ... part taken up with what amount it would be safe to travel on Government lands. It would be desirable to know at what period of the year it would be best to reach the State." It strikes us that the State Agricultural society ought to be doing something in the way of answering these and similar enquiries.

A CORRECT SHOOTER.—J. C. Jamison who arrived from Salmon river last Saturday, brings the news that the Commencement, in the particulars of an accident which occurred last Sabbath morning, a short distance above Mt. Muncville, resulting in the instant death of a ... named ... Mr. Jamville was coming down ... It appears that the ... in the house late in the evening, where his mother and sister were sitting, took down a double barrelled shot gun and said he was going out to shoot some birds. They no less tried to persuade him from his purpose, but he still persisted. After he had left the house, and departed from the house the report of a gun was heard, and on their repairing to the spot they found the young man dead, having received the charge on top of his head. It was the general appearance the impression was that he had carelessly placed his foot on the hammer, and was blowing in the muzzle to ascertain if the piece was loaded when it was discharged.

SHIPPING.—The bark Great Republic was towed down yesterday to Rainier. She is to load in the river with lumber from the Columbia river. The Helen Augusta was towed down by the Active and Julia to the Columbia where she will take in the balance of her cargo. She drawes too much water fully loaded, for the channel at Swan Island, at the present low stage of water.

MARSHAL APPOINTED.—The dispatches published this morning announce the appointment of Thos G. Young as U. S. Marshal for the District of Oregon. Mr. Young is a resident of this city. He is a capable, active man and his appointment is not only a good one, but will be satisfactory to the Republicans of the State.

WHAT CHEER HOUSE.—It will be seen by advertisement that the late proprietors of the What Cheer House have dissolved partnership. Mr. Lyon informs us that the house will remain closed for a few days to take account of furniture and partnership property, and that it will then be opened by the firm of Lyon & O'Connor.

DELINQUENT TAXES.—The delinquent tax list turned over to the City Marshal for collection, calls for an aggregate of over $9,000.

SAILED.—The steamer Geo. S. Wright sailed for Victoria and Puget Sound at 6 o'clock last evening.

THE WEST.

The Owyhee Tidal Wave says that San Francisco must look to her interests or she will lose the Idaho trade, Chicago will get it.

The steamer Idaho, which lately arrived at San Francisco from China, brought some thousands of water melons from the Sandwich Islands.

A schooner arrived at San Francisco a few days since, from the northern fishing grounds, with 13,000 codfish. She reports the season unfavorable.

As the San Franciscans have incorporated about everything to be incorporated, somebody suggests that they incorporate a company to insure against garroting.

There is a mine in Calaveras county, California, called the Petticoat, which has lately sold at the rate of $80,000. We would like to take stock in that petticoat government.

The California Farmer says there is more nourishment and palatable food in one pound of green asparagus than in ten pounds of the white, which, besides, is absolutely poisonous.

The miners on Portugese Flat on the Sacramento river, below Soda Springs, are doing exceedingly well. A $300 nugget was lately taken from a claim owned by Robt. Pitt.

A velocipede has reached Colusa, (Cal.) and we judge from the notice in the Sun that the thing is looked upon with much suspicion, some of the "unterrified" believing it a radical giass outus.

An explosion of giant powder took place in the Ida Elmore mine at Owyhee, on the 31st March, by which a man named Jeremiah Connor was killed. The explosion resulted from careless handling of the powder.

There will be three days meeting at the Siskiyon Agricultural Society track, near Yreka, on the 5th, 7th and 8th days of May next. The races will be free for all Siskiyon, Klamath, Del Norte and Trinity counties in California, and Josephine and Jackson counties in Oregon.

The San Francisco Bulletin charges Senator Cole with "nepotism," because he favors the appointment of John R. Buckbee as Postal Agent for California, and B. C. Whiting to be Superintendent of the Mint. The former is a cousin, and the latter a brother-in law of the Senator.

The Marysville (Cal.) Appeal ridicules the idea of trying to protect the seals and other "varmints" in Alaska. It says: "To preserve the fur trade in Alaska, is simply to keep that country in a state of semi barbarism. Yankees cannot turn themselves into oil eating barbarians for the sake of keeping the seals wild!

The Nevada Transcript says: Congressman Johnson has distinguished himself by offering a resolution in the House, declaring that the 15th amendment did not include Chinese suffrage. We next expect to hear him offering one to the effect that the word "white" does not mean "yellow" as a substitute for the one proposed. The Congressman from Sierra has evidently not read the naturalization laws lately.

A SMALL STEAM ENGINE.—A writer in a London periodical thus describes a minute model of the engines of the steamship Warrior—the smallest steam engine in the world—made by Thomas Smith.

"The tiniest working model in the world is now in the possession of John Penn (of Greenwich), the eminent maker of great engines of which it is the infinitely reduced counterpart. It will stand on a threepenny-piece: it really covers less space, for its base plate measures only 3 8th of an inch by about 5-10'ths. The engines are of the trunk form introduced by Penn; the cylinders measure 1 8th of an inch diameter, and the trunk 1 20th. The length of stroke is 3 40th of an inch. They are fitted with reversing gear, and are generally similar in design to the great machines with which ships of the Warrior class are equipped. From the extreme smallness of this model a few minutiæ—such, for instance, as the air pumps—have necessarily been omitted; there is a limit beyond which human skill and minuteness cannot pass. Still, so small are some of the parts that they require a powerful magnifying glass to see their form. The screws which hold the members together are only 1 80th of an inch in diameter, and those are duly furnished with hexagonal nuts, which can be loosened and tightened by a Lilliputian spanner. The whole weight of the model is less than a threepenny piece. It works admirably, and when working its crank shaft performs from twenty to thirty thousand revolutions in a minute."

☞ A Special Meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department, will be held this (Thursday) evening, at 7½ o'clock.

DEATH DEATH.—Adulteration, Sure Death.—The World newspaper has exposed the vast amount of deleterious adulterations of liquors and groceries, but in the Drug business it is carried on to a greater extent, thus producing Death, in consequence of physicians not obtaining the desired results from their remedies. The Drugs and Medicines at the Oregon Dispensary are fresh and pure, hence all those first-class Doctors prefer our store to any other in the city.

DIED.

At Salem, April 5th, J. H. Nicklin, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

The deceased was born in Virginia July 4th, 1804. He resided in that State until 1842. In that year he removed to Iowa, whence he came to Oregon in 1850. He took a claim on Salt Creek in Polk county, where he lived until the fall of 1857 when he removed to Salem where he resided up to the time of his death. His life for several years has been one of great bodily suffering. He was well known by a large number of the people of Oregon, and his many virtues will be long remembered. He leaves a widow and a large number of descendants, children and grandchildren.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER NOS 645 AND 647 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR AND SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which, each year, increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the rivality of some manufacturers, and every day is seen increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior products as for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive only after a trial; but only adds to the favorable opinion of its consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOAGLAND'S

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.
